

Wednesday, May 2

8:00-9:30AM (Concurrent Orals)

Investing in Our Future: Essential Elements and Impact of a Formal Multifaceted Well-being Program for Surgical Residents

Goodman Surgical Education Center Summer Intern 2017: Wendy Qiu

1:10-2:00PM (Workshops)

Developing an EPA-aligned Surgical Subinternship Curriculum: Training Future Surgeons Today

Goodman Surgical Education Fellow: Edmund W. Lee, MD

Combating Mistreatment: Understanding Underlying Mechanisms of Mistreatment and Designing Focused Interventions

Goodman Surgical Education Fellow: Brittany Hasty, MD

4:30-5:30PM (ASE Paper Session 2)

An EPA-Aligned, Mastery Learning Scrub Training Curriculum Significantly Increases Medical Student Knowledge and Confidence in Operating Room Sterile Technique

Goodman Surgical Education Fellow: Brittany Hasty, MD

4:30pm-5:35pm (Concurrent Orals 3)

Surgical Informed Consent Perceptions in Sudan: Potential for Improvement through Training and Education

MS1: Natasha Abadilla, BA

Thursday, May 3

NO STANFORD PRESENTATIONS

Friday, May 4

9:15AM (APDS Panel Session III)

Maternity Leave During Surgical Residency: Guidelines for Developing Your Program Policies Moderator: Douglas Smink, MD, Brigham & Women's Hospital, Boston, MA

Perspectives and challenges of pregnant US general surgery residents: Erika L. Rangel, MD, MS, Brigham and Women's Hospital, Boston, MA

Pregnancy during training: a resident perspective: Gifty Kwakye, MD, Brigham and Women's Hospital, Boston, MA, Brigham and Women's Hospital, Boston, MA

ABS leave policies and flexible training tracks: Jo Buyske, MD, Executive Director, American Board of Surgery, Inc., Philadelphia, PA

How we do it: A Program Director's perspective: Mark Melcher, MD, Stanford University Medical Center, Palo Alto, CA

10:40 (APDS Paper Session IV)

How Much Are We Spending on Resident Selection?

Aimee Gardner, PhD¹, Douglas Smink, MD, MPH², Bradford Scott, MD¹, James Korndorffer, MD, MHPE³, David Harrington, MD⁴, Matthew Ritter, MD⁵, ¹Baylor College of Medicine, Houston, Texas, ²Brigham & Women's Hospital, Boston, MA, ³Stanford University, Stanford, CA, ⁴Brown University, Providence, RI, ⁵Uniform Services University of Health Sciences, Walter Reed Hospital, Bethesda, MD

12:00PM (Workshops)

Associate Program Directors: When to say yes and How to say no

F. Amersi¹, J. Lau², JW Kempenich³, A Tillou⁴, Cedars-Sinai Medical Center¹, Stanford University², University of Texas Health Science Center, at San Antonio³, David Geffen University of California School of Medicine⁴

1:00PM (Workshops)

Putting the 'I' in Team Through Interdisciplinary In-Situ Simulation

Brittany Hasty, MD, Paloma Marin-Nevarez, BA, Laura Mazer, MD, Sarah Hirz, RN, Ruth Fanning, MD, James Lau, MD, Stanford University, Stanford, CA

6:00PM (Poster Session)

Professional Development Boot Camp: Outcomes from a Centralized Curriculum Preparing Residents for Careers in Academic Surgery

Edmund W. Lee, MD, Edward S. Shipper, MD, Brittany N. Hasty, MD, Marc Melcher, MD, Arden Morris, MD, Sylvia Bereknyei Merrell, DrPH, Stanford University, Stanford, CA

Enhancing Teamwork and Communication in the Operating Room through Simulation-based Interprofessional Education

Paloma Marin Nevarez, BA, Brittany Hasty, MD, Laura Mazer, MD, Sylvia Bereknyei-Merrell, DrPH, James Lau, MD, Stanford Medicine, Stanford, CA